

The Edge Of Twilight

Music and Lyrics:
Rainer Escheberg

the sun goes up it's a brand new morning bright and shiny it's a beautiful day you feel the gap you're still yawning but you're ready come what may get on up don't even hesitate stay on top grab it before it's late you don't want to be gone not before the break of dawn

standing at the edge of twilight wondering which way to go
standing at the edge of twilight
watch the morning show

a new day to begin
will you lose or win
will you lose or...

you don't care about the way it comes up
it's all the same

you just feel the way you are and the day may come so far

a new day to begin

will you lose or win
will you lose or...
