

RockFunkSoulRoll

Music: Rainer Escheberg

Lyrics: Rainer Escheberg

what you're gonna do with your blue suede shoes when they're worn and full of holes

when they tighten the screw and crucify your souls

the pink cadillac doesn't take you back though you're playin' in a rock-and-roll band if you don't let it be you have to pay the fee you're a stranger in a strange land

did music save your mortal soul or was it just another kind of fake pretend to climb the wonderwall what's rising up just has to fall be sure they're watching every breath you take the juke box hero lives down at ground zero with a full glass of strange brew the mad dog lies with his crying eyes and is waiting for his crew old man sitting by the side of the street you can hear him sadly moan charlie freak is on the soul seek the country road will take him home we are the champions and we knew no cure from boogie-woogie flu but still no groupies lying at your feet and music was my first true love was heaven sent from up above so love is what you really only need you get what you need (need need need need need)

love love love

love love love

all you need is

just music and
