

Your Charming Way

Music and Lyrics: Rainer Escheberg

the morning light
that's floating gently
through the shady trees

and moving on towards the silver sea

and there it lies
beneath your side
your eyes are looking warm and bright at me your lips are shining like the stars

and sometimes i feel so bizarre

as if someone has taken me away

and on and on it goes just on
and i don't want to lose

and i hope
that you are still there

that you will still care
